

No real change from last week's performance.
 Nearly everyone speeds up, which is not surprising given the road layout:

35% are speeding on exit (same as last week), although there was a 1% point drop in the super speeders from 9% last week to 8% this week.

The speed distribution over the two covert weeks is very consistent:

Traffic has been slowly going up (though we must allow for the fact that the battery lasts a shorter time when not in covert mode)

Two weeks ago: 3570
 Last week: 3790
 This week: 3857
 This is counting those doing >11 mph
